DANIEL R. JACKSON

President

North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists

Daniel R. Jackson, the president of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists, was elected June 28, 2010, by delegates of the world church at their business session in Atlanta, Ga., and re elected to this position on July 6, 2015 at the 60th General Conference Session held in San Antonio, Texas. The General Conference Session is the highest governing body in the Church.

Jackson is a native Canadian and, with the exception of five years of service in the Southern Asia Division, has lived and ministered in the North American Division. He is a graduate of Canadian Union College (now Burman University) and Andrews University, from which he holds an M.A. in Religion in Systematic Theology.

During his career, Jackson has served the church as a pastor, teacher and administrator. Jackson and his wife, Donna, enjoy the three children and four grandchildren the Lord has given them.

But foremost, Jackson says that he is a fellow traveler on the same path as every Christian headed toward the Kingdom.

TERRY BARKER, ARCHITECT

KATIE LAMB Collegedale, Tennessee Mayor

Katie A. Lamb and family moved to Collegedale in January 1972. Until her retirement in 2006, she taught nursing at Southern Adventist University, became Dean of the School of Nursing and later was Associate Vice President for Academics, and Dean of Graduate Studies.

Katie holds a BS degree in Nursing Education from Union College in Lincoln, NE. She continued her education at the University of Central Arkansas receiving a MSN in Nursing Education and a PhD in Nursing Administration and Higher Education from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. She has practiced nursing in hospitals located in NE, CO, TX, MD, GA, and TN.

Her interests lie in many areas. She and her husband enjoy traveling both in the States and abroad. Hobbies include quilting, reading, and antiquing. She is also a volunteer for the Greater Chattanooga United Way organization.

Katie's family consists of her husband of 51 years, Ed, a professor of social work and sociology; son, John, self-employed; daughter, Lt Comdr Janet Lamb, US Navy; and two granddaughters, Kate and Molly.

Her goal as a city commissioner is to work toward making Collegedale a place where all citizens feel inclusive and enjoy a secure and pleasant community. Many changes have occurred since Collegedale was incorporated. It is important that all residents have the opportunity to voice how they see their city grow and develop.
